OVERVIEW

A Vagabond exclusive. This monumental, 90 centimeters in diameter, hand-sculpted pendant lamp is crafted from an organic blend of paper pulp, clay, and resin (carta d'argilla). Featuring a wide, encompassing dome that brings a sense of elemental warmth to any space, the piece is pictured with a striking, organic jagged edge that diffuses a soft, atmospheric glow. Fully customizable—from the edge style to the colour.

Made with 35 hours of artisanal labour

DESCRIPTION

Available exclusively through Vagabond, this sweeping dome pendant is a masterclass in scale and organic materiality. Spanning an impressive 90 centimeters in diameter, the hand-sculpted

carta d'argilla

shade—crafted from an exclusive blend of paper pulp, clay, and resin—creates a focal point that is both visually commanding and surprisingly lightweight. This specialized material fusion gives the piece a deeply tactile, earthy, wabi-sabi aesthetic, while the expansive inner dome reflects and softens the light, casting a warm, enveloping glow over dining tables or living spaces.

Because it is entirely bespoke, this pendant is designed to perfectly integrate into your specific interior narrative. Clients can choose between a dynamic, hand-torn jagged edge (as pictured) or a clean, straight edge.

The creation of this magnificent piece is a testament to slow craft. It requires approximately 35 hours of meticulous manual labor to shape, texture, and refine the paper pulp, clay, and resin mixture, followed by a mandatory two-week curing phase (

MATERIALS

Available exclusively through Vagabond, this piece is a masterclass in organic materiality and wabi-sabi aesthetics. Each shade is individually hand-sculpted from carta d'argilla—an exclusive, innovative blend of paper pulp, clay, and resin.

This specialized material fusion allows us to achieve two seemingly contradictory qualities: an impressive, visually commanding scale paired with a surprisingly lightweight structural form. The exterior texture is deeply tactile and earthy, celebrating the raw, slow-crafted beauty of natural fibers and mineral elements. On the inside, the expansive dome acts as a perfect natural reflector, softening the light to cast a warm, enveloping ambient glow.

True to the philosophy of slow craft, working with carta d'argilla requires immense patience and precision. It takes approximately 35 hours of meticulous manual labor to shape, texture, and refine the raw mixture over a large-scale mold. Once formed, the piece must undergo a mandatory, strict two-week natural curing phase (séchage) to allow the organic elements to properly set, harden, and bond without forced heat.

Because each piece is entirely bespoke and hand-formed, the subtle surface variations and organic irregularities are not flaws—they are the celebrated signature of the artisan, ensuring that your pendant is entirely unique.
