DESCRIPTION

On a calm cream field, the artist has placed a constellation of woven signs: bold black chevrons in the upper left, a corner bracket and dot line in the upper right, a low wave of dots and lines in the lower left, and a cluster of red and black triangles in the lower right. The negative space is part of the design: the eye travels between these elements as if reading a quiet, abstract score.

Woven entirely by hand on a horizontal loom, the rug uses a flat, dense structure that keeps the surface even while letting each motif stand out in relief. Small variations in line thickness, spacing and edge are intentional, preserving the marks of manual work and the time invested at the loom.

Light yet robust, this rug is well suited to living rooms, bedrooms or a study, and works particularly well in minimal interiors where its graphic language can breathe. Its compact weight makes it easier to move, clean and rotate while still offering warmth and acoustic comfort.
