

Blue Zone

RUGS / SU TESSINGIU / MADE IN ITALY

5 960,00 EUR

IMMEDIATELY AVAILABLE

DIMENSIONS

200 x 195 x – cm

WEIGHT

6 kg

OVERVIEW

Handmade rug woven on a horizontal loom, telling the story of Sardinia's "blue zones" of longevity. A cream ground is crossed by a dark, jagged band evoking the island's interior, while scattered blue dots mark the long-living villages — including Seulo, where the artists grew up and work. Woven from Sardinian wool with a flat, dense structure and hand-finished edges.

Handmade rug woven on a horizontal loom, telling the story of Sardinia's "blue zones" of longevity. A cream ground is crossed by a dark, jagged band evoking the island's interior, while scattered blue dots mark the long-living villages — including Seulo, where the artists grew up and work. Woven from Sardinian wool with a flat, dense structure and hand-finished edges.

Handmade rug woven on a horizontal loom, telling the story of Sardinia's "blue zones" of longevity. A cream ground is crossed by a dark, jagged band evoking the island's interior, while scattered blue dots mark the long-living villages — including Seulo, where the artists grew up and work. Woven from Sardinian wool with a flat, dense structure and hand-finished edges.

Made with 260 hours of artisanal labour

DESCRIPTION

Blue Zone is a cartography of memory and territory. It maps the island of Sardegna through the lens of its "paesi longevi" — the long-living villages known as blue zones. On a warm cream field, a dark, irregular diagonal band recalls the island's mountainous interior; scattered blue dots mark the villages renowned for longevity, among them Seulo, where the artists were born, raised and where they still weave today. To the left, a quiet rhythm of short lines suggests terraces, paths or the quiet architecture of daily life.

All fibres are sourced in Sardegna, so the material itself belongs to the same landscape the rug describes. Woven entirely by hand on a horizontal loom, this is a demanding piece: controlling the long diagonal, placing every blue dot, and keeping the structure flat and strong require many concentrated hours at the loom. Small variations in line thickness, dot size and edge are part of its truth as a hand-made cartography.

This is a statement rug with a strong narrative and a high level of labour per square metre, reflected in its price. It is designed for generous living spaces, hospitality projects or collectors who seek pieces with a clear connection to place and story — not only as design, but as a woven document of a specific territory and its people.

DESCRIPTION — CONTINUED

Blue Zone is a cartography of memory and territory. It maps the island of Sardegna through the lens of its "paesi longevi" — the long-living villages known as blue zones. On a warm cream field, a dark, irregular diagonal band recalls the island's mountainous interior; scattered blue dots mark the villages renowned for longevity, among them Seulo, where the artists were born, raised and where they still weave today. To the left, a quiet rhythm of short lines suggests terraces, paths or the quiet architecture of daily life.

All fibres are sourced in Sardegna, so the material itself belongs to the same landscape the rug describes. Woven entirely by hand on a horizontal loom, this is a demanding piece: controlling the long diagonal, placing every blue dot, and keeping the structure flat and strong require many concentrated hours at the loom. Small variations in line thickness, dot size and edge are part of its truth as a hand-made cartography.

This is a statement rug with a strong narrative and a high level of labour per square metre, reflected in its price. It is designed for generous living spaces, hospitality projects or collectors who seek pieces with a clear connection to place and story — not only as design, but as a woven document of a specific territory and its people.

Blue Zone is a cartography of memory and territory. It maps the island of Sardegna through the lens of its "paesi longevi" — the long-living villages known as blue zones. On a warm cream field, a dark, irregular diagonal band recalls the island's mountainous interior; scattered blue dots mark the villages renowned for longevity, among them Seulo, where the artists were born, raised and where they still weave today. To the left, a quiet rhythm of short lines suggests terraces, paths or the quiet architecture of daily life.

All fibres are sourced in Sardegna, so the material itself belongs to the same landscape the rug describes. Woven entirely by hand on a horizontal loom, this is a demanding piece: controlling the long diagonal, placing every blue dot, and keeping the structure flat and strong require many concentrated hours at the loom. Small variations in line thickness, dot size and edge are part of its truth as a hand-made cartography.

This is a statement rug with a strong narrative and a high level of labour per square metre, reflected in its price. It is designed for generous living spaces, hospitality projects or collectors who seek pieces with a clear connection to place and story — not only as design, but as a woven document of a specific territory and its people.

CARE & WARRANTY

- Vacuum regularly with low suction; follow the direction of the weave.
- Rotate periodically to ensure even wear; avoid prolonged direct sunlight.
- For stains or deep cleaning, consult a professional textile cleaner experienced with handwoven wool rugs.
- Wash: cold wash;
- Spin speed: minimum.
- Use a mild, non-aggressive soap;
- For any stains, use Marseille soap.

SHIPPING

Shipping rates are applied during check-out. Each Vagabond piece is packaged with care. For more information please view our Shipping Policy page or feel free to contact us with any questions at info@vagabond-atelier.com

Estimated delivery time:

IT 3-5 days

EU 6-8 days

DOWNLOADS

???? CARE RECOMMENDATIONS

???? CERTIFICATION

DISCOVER THE ARTISAN

Su Tessingiu

Discover the artist behind this piece. Learn more about the materials and the techniques used to create it.

DISCOVER

DESCRIPTION — CONTINUED

Blue Zone is a cartography of memory and territory. It maps the island of Sardegna through the lens of its “paesi longevi” — the long-living villages known as blue zones. On a warm cream field, a dark, irregular diagonal band recalls the island’s mountainous interior; scattered blue dots mark the villages renowned for longevity, among them Seulo, where the artists were born, raised and where they still weave today. To the left, a quiet rhythm of short lines suggests terraces, paths or the quiet architecture of daily life. All fibres are sourced in Sardegna, so the material itself belongs to the same landscape the rug describes. Woven entirely by hand on a horizontal loom, this is a demanding piece: controlling the long diagonal, placing every blue dot, and keeping the structure flat and strong require many concentrated hours at the loom. Small variations in line thickness, dot size and edge are part of its truth as a hand-made cartography.

This is a statement rug with a strong narrative and a high level of labour per square metre, reflected in its price. It is designed for generous living spaces, hospitality projects or collectors who seek pieces with a clear connection to place and story — not only as design, but as a woven document of a specific territory and its people.

Blue Zone is a cartography of memory and territory. It maps the island of Sardegna through the lens of its “paesi longevi” — the long-living villages known as blue zones. On a warm cream field, a dark, irregular diagonal band recalls the island’s mountainous interior; scattered blue dots mark the villages renowned for longevity, among them Seulo, where the artists were born, raised and where they still weave today. To the left, a quiet rhythm of short lines suggests terraces, paths or the quiet architecture of daily life.

All fibres are sourced in Sardegna, so the material itself belongs to the same landscape the rug describes. Woven entirely by hand on a horizontal loom, this is a demanding piece: controlling the long diagonal, placing every blue dot, and keeping the structure flat and strong require many concentrated hours at the loom. Small variations in line thickness, dot size and edge are part of its truth as a hand-made cartography.

This is a statement rug with a strong narrative and a high level of labour per square metre, reflected in its price. It is designed for generous living spaces, hospitality projects or collectors who seek pieces with a clear connection to place and story — not only as design, but as a woven document of a specific territory and its people.

Blue Zone is a cartography of memory and territory. It maps the island of Sardegna through the lens of its “paesi longevi” — the long-living villages known as blue zones. On a warm cream field, a dark, irregular diagonal band recalls the island’s mountainous interior; scattered blue dots mark the villages renowned for longevity, among them Seulo, where the artists were born, raised and where they still weave today. To the left, a quiet rhythm of short lines suggests terraces, paths or the quiet architecture of daily life.

All fibres are sourced in Sardegna, so the material itself belongs to the same landscape the rug describes. Woven entirely by hand on a horizontal loom, this is a demanding piece: controlling the long diagonal, placing every blue dot, and keeping the structure flat and strong require many concentrated hours at the loom. Small variations in line thickness, dot size and edge are part of its truth as a hand-made cartography.

This is a statement rug with a strong narrative and a high level of labour per square metre, reflected in its price. It is designed for generous living spaces, hospitality projects or collectors who seek pieces with a clear connection to place and story — not only as design, but as a woven document of a specific territory and its people.

SPECIFICATIONS

Technique

Hand weaving on orizontal loom; flat, dense weave with inlaid diagonal band and scattered dot motifs.

Finish

Hand-stitched bound edges; flat underside for stability.

Orientation

Floor rug.

DIMENSIONS & WEIGHT

200 × 195 cm

Weight: approx. 6 kg.

Weight: approx. 6 kg.

Weight: approx. 6 kg.

Weight: approx. 6 kg.

MATERIALS

80% WOOL - 20% COTTON

CUSTOMIZATION

Custom sizes, alternative colourways (e.g. softer neutrals or tonal contrasts) and edge finishes available on commission — lead times and pricing provided per order.

To request any customizations please fill the form:

[wpforms id="1100"]

COLOUR VARIANTS AND PRODUCT VIEWS